How long will my website take to design & build?

The timescale depends on many factors, such as our current workload, the need to review and alter page designs, and other unforeseen factors.

As a rule, if you have a clear idea of what you want and can provide all the relevant text page ready and images optimised, we can normally have your website published within 2 weeks.

Even complex sites can be completed within 4 weeks - if you have all the relevant information ready. The biggest delay in all our sites is always getting the last images or content from the Client...

Simple one-page designs can normally be completed in 1 week from receipt of all your information.

Timescales will be discussed when we discuss your design.
