Is there a contract length?

As we offer a pay-as-you-go, month-to-month service, there is no set contract length. However, we do require a commitment to an initial three-month period for the setup of your website. This is because auditing your site, transferring it to our servers (if requested), and configuring it on our maintenance system requires significant time and resources.
We need to incur these costs to provide you with the best possible service. We hope that you will find the benefits of our service outweigh the initial set-up costs and continue with us beyond the three-month period. If not, you are free to leave without any further obligations.
