Who pays for the plugins and their licence renewal?

Development · https://computancy.co.uk/kb/who-pays-for-the-plugins-and-their-licence-renewal/

The cost of any specialist plugins requested as part of your site build will be included in the initial quote as separate line items. We charge the developer's cost plus a 10% handling fee. These licenses are normally valid for 12 months, after which you will have the opportunity to renew the license directly with the developer, ensuring your site remains updated and secure.

For clients enrolled in our maintenance programs, we will notify you when the license is due for renewal and invoice you the developer's renewal price plus a 10% handling fee in advance. This arrangement allows you the opportunity to cover the cost of the license renewal, after which we will purchase the plugin on your behalf and ensure it is kept up to date.

An added benefit of our long-term maintenance contracts includes access to certain plugins for which we hold Lifetime Licences; for these, you will incur no charge. Similarly, for plugins covered under our agency license, there will be no charge as long as we continue to support that particular plugin.

It's worth noting that sometimes plugin developers may discontinue their services. If we need to source an alternative plugin to maintain the functionality you rely on, there may be an additional cost involved.